A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT TOMBSTONE.

Tombstone Almost Cremated.

One Hundred and Fifty Buildings

Burned.

Loss Near a Quarter of a Million Dollars.

Insurance Only Sixty Thousand Dollars.

We are pained to chronicle the disastrous fire at Tombstone, which took place on the 22nd.

The fire first originated in a saloon in Vazina & Cook's block, caused by the explosion of a barrel of whiskey. It seems that a confusion took possession of the occupants of the saloon, and there being no fire engine and a scarcity of water, the fire spread so rapidly that it got beyond the control of willing hearts and ready hands.
The wind suddenly sprang up and before night, was swept away nearly $250,000 worth of property.
One hundred and fifty buildings, adobe and frame, were destroyed and over five hundred people left homeless. Most of the property was insured, but at small figures.
Our exchanges say that, probably $60,000 will cover the insurance.
The citizens worked manfully in their endeavors to save property, and the utmost good order prevailed. The debris is being fast removed and Tombstone's people are going ahead with renewed energy and stout hearts to again build up their shattered fortunes.
Those who have plenty and who have been providentially spared in this calamity are kindly administering to the necessities and wants of the sufferers. Below we give a list of the losses sustained

Commendable Generosity.

There is no firm in Arizona more liberal to their patrons, or who are more unostentatious in their charity than the well known and popular wholesale and retail firm of L. Zeckendorf & Co. of Tucson. In times of disaster their purses are open and they give with lavish and generous hands. A case in point, almost before the fire of Thursday was extinguished, when ruin appeared to stare many in the face, and the future looked dark and discouraging, they telegraphed to their traveling agent, Mark Ezekiel, who was here, "Render all possible assistance to our friends who have suffered." By this timely and characteristic offer, more than one merchant will be enabled to start in business again as soon as buildings are completed. It is such actions that show men's hearts, and help to build up and sustain new countries.—Nugget.

It is pleasing to note such acts of magnanimity, especially at the hour of distress and need. Such humane acts will, surely, find their rewards and may this firm reap them and have continued success.

The assessor of Yuma county, acting under instructions of the District Attorney, assessed not only the ore found on the dumps of mines, but also the locations themselves. If that be the law, it would certainly be "more honored in the breach than in the observance."—Star.

So we think. The above item will certainly show that, assessing mines is not a popular one nor done in Pima County. The editor of the "Star" is an attorney and has probably given this matter his attention. At any rate, he is right.

San Diego.

This ancient town has thrown off her venerable robes and is all life again and bids fair to have a brilliant commercial future.
Her citizens have been patient and for a long time struggling for that proper recognition which was due to San Diego. Fooled on one hand and baffled on the other, she has still reached the goal of her ambition, and bids fair to become one most independent and first commercial cities on the coast. Her county and advantages are excelled by none—her prosperity and financial condition are second to no county of California. Track-laying on the new railroad has already commenced, with the wharves and machine shops all completed. The San Diegans are almost standing on their heads, at the prospect of being united with the other part of the world.

RAILROAD ITEMS.

The New Mexico and Arizona Railroad Company, which is really, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Company, have organized and filed their articles of incorporation with the Secretary. The road will be built from Deming to Tucson, with branches to Tombstone, Patagonia and Globe, and uniting with the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad on the Colorado River near the Needles.

The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company is pushing its work towards Prescott. Some of its contractors have gone East and to San Francisco in search of men to work on the line North of Prescott. It has its engineers in the field in Kern, San Diego and San Bernardino Counties.

The Line of the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe Company in this Territory is the "New Mexican and Arizona Railway Company." Two citizens of Tucson are among its officers. E. B. Pomeroy, Vice-President, and H. Farley, Secretary.

The Southern Pacific is now open beyond El Paso, some 1300 miles from San Francisco. Grading is going on through Texas, and rails and materials are going forward in large quantities.

The great Railroad war between the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific of New Mexico companies commenced last week at Santa Fe.

Chalmers Scott is surveying the proposed branch railroad line, from Yuma to the Gulf of California, starting from Port Ysabel.
